Wick Phillips Expands Litigation Practice

Seema Tendolkar Joins Firm

Wick Phillips Gould & Martin, LLP, a full-service business law firm, announces the hire of Seema Tendolkar, as an associate in the firm's litigation group.

Ms. Tendolkar specializes in securities, employment, intellectual property and general business litigation, and has successfully represented clients in a wide variety of commercial disputes, including class action matters. In addition, she has significant experience conducting internal investigations on behalf of corporations, boards of directors, and audit committees.

"As our practice continues to grow, we want legal talent that brings an added level of experience to the Wick Phillips team," said Todd Phillips, a founding partner of Wick Phillips. "With Seema, we get a strong team player who has extensive experience working with public and private companies. Her experience in handling all aspects of pre-trial and trial work in complex, high-stakes litigation around the country further demonstrates our commitment to providing top-tier legal counsel to our expanding client base."

Licensed to practice in New York and Texas, Ms. Tendolkar has represented clients in state court, federal court, and before the International Trade Commission, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Federal Trade Commission. In addition, she is admitted to practice before the United States District Courts for the Northern, Southern, Eastern and Western Districts of Texas.

In addition to her commercial casework, Ms. Tendolkar also provides pro bono legal services to women and children throughout the DFW area. She regularly represents these clients in divorce and adoption proceedings.

"Wick Phillips has developed an excellent reputation for its level of service and personal attention to clients," said Tendolkar. "This firm has been recognized for doing outstanding legal
