

Wick Phillips Expands Dallas Office

Dallas, Texas, March 11, 2025 – Wick Phillips announces the expansion of their Dallas office located in 3131 McKinney. The firm currently occupies nearly 30,000 square feet and is adding an additional 7,200 square feet to take over two complete floors in the building. According to managing partner Rob Wills, “The firm has seen tremendous growth.” He emphasized that “everyone is eager to move and get settled into the newly expanded space.”

After moving to a larger office within the building four years ago, firm leadership decided to grow their footprint in the existing space rather than relocate. The location offers clients and employees a prime location in Uptown Dallas without the headaches of traffic and parking downtown.

The expanded office for Wick Phillips, which has additional offices in Austin and Fort Worth, helps to strengthen the firm’s strategic position in the North Texas market. “The expansion reflects our commitment to continuing to grow Wick Phillips and direct our focus on the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex,” said founding partner Bryan Wick.
