

Wick Phillips Moves into New Office Space in Dallas

Dallas, Texas, March 5, 2021 – Wick Phillips is pleased to announce the opening of its new Dallas office. The Dallas office remains at 3131 McKinney Avenue, but has moved from Suite 100 to Suite 500. “We had a great opportunity to expand and update our office space while keeping the same address,” said David Drez, managing partner of the firm.

The entire 3131 building has undergone a major transformation, with an updated lobby and social space, new elevator cabs, and improved visitor entrance. This building offers Wick Phillips a prime location in Uptown Dallas without the headaches of traffic and parking downtown.

The new Dallas office for Wick Phillips, which has additional offices in Austin and Fort Worth, helps to strengthen the firm’s strategic position in the North Texas market. “The new office reflects our growth over the last eight years, as well as our plans to continue growing,” said founding partner Bryan Wick.
